

Cooper Mountain neighbors

Please enjoy this edition of Metro's quarterly magazine, which features a place very close to your backyard in the Field Guide on Page 10.

Want to explore the park with Metro's expert naturalists? Turn to pages 12 and 13 to find details about a spring plant walk and classes about bird identification and bird languages.

Cooper Mountain Nature Park is a partnership between Metro, which owns the site, and the Tualatin Hills Park & Recreation District, which provides day-to-day management.

My name is _____
I want to keep up with Metro's nature news by:

- ☐ Receiving a monthly e-news digest and quarterly e-magazine that include updates about Metro parks and natural areas

Email address: _____

- ☐ Receiving Our Big Backyard in the mail four times a year

Mailing address: _____

Make your voice count

Weigh in on parks, water quality and other issues that affect the nature of the region.

Join Opt In, Metro's online opinion panel.
Getting started is simple:
optinpanel.org

optin
ONLINE PANEL

PLACE
STAMP
HERE

Metro – Our Big Backyard
600 NE Grand Ave.
Portland, OR 97232

Please stay in touch by filling out this card and returning it. It's easy and free to get the scoop on Cooper Mountain and other parks and nature programs across the region and in your backyard.

oregonmetro.gov/parks
thprd.org/nature/programs

Metro

TUALATIN HILLS
PARK & RECREATION DISTRICT