Emily, just for you to know, I will be bringing this to our sub-committee meeting on June 9th:

Costs for landscaping probably reflect "traditional" landscaping design with big trees, etc. You may already know this information because you have several projects with George, but their planting costs are much cheaper.

The preliminary estimate we received last night showed 75c/sq ft, which equates to $32,670/acre. George's program costs $8,012/acre for the first acre and $6,820/acre for subsequent acres, and this price includes the 5-year maintenance contract.

It depends on what we want as a finished product, but we could get some substantial 'savings' on the planting if we wanted to use this type of program for part or all of the project.

See ya, Nancy
