Acting Chair Devlin said he would like issues related to the Intergovernmental Relations Committee discussed in further detail at the next Council retreat. He said both he and Councilor Bauer would contact Committee members to determine priority issues.

Councilor Gardner asked if those issues would be selected from the list before the Committee or by Committee consensus. He noted the list did determine priority issues. Acting Chair Devlin said the Intergovernmental Relations Committee was restructured in January since the priority list was drafted and said the Committee could be polled on the issues again for consideration April 3 and then brought before the Council for informational purposes.

Mr. Cotugno explained the resolution and said the amendment to add an alternate from the City of Gresham failed. He noted the amendment to the resolution before the Committee this date was to authorize teleconferences and televotes. He said public notice would still be required and minutes would be kept of such teleconferences.

Councilor McFarland asked why the Gresham alternate amendment failed. Councilor Gardner said JPACT Chair Ragsdale ruled to adopt a 2/3 vote majority. He said 15 members were present and 6 members opposed the amendment. Councilor Gardner said he had asked JPACT Chair Ragsdale to rule on what vote margin was logical since the Metro Council had not yet officially adopted the JPACT bylaws. The Committee and staff discussed the JPACT vote and voting procedures further.

Motion to Amend: Councilor Bauer moved to approve the amendment to Resolution No. 1189 related to televote procedures.
